Malóne, the Cuban-born DJ and producer from Miami, is riding some serious momentum in his biggest yea of his career so far in 2024. Recently becoming a resident DJ of Space Miami, he's left a lasting mark on the underground house music scene, boasting a discography of releases under esteemed labels such as Saved, Watergate, Abracadabra, Insomniac and upcoming on Elrow and many other imprints. Malóne's collaborations with Blond:ish have garnered admiration from industry titans such as Martinez Brothers, Black Coffee, Marco Carola, and a host of other legendary artists. More importantly, Malóne has just recently launched his own imprint out of Miami called WHYNOTUS. Along with signing and releasing music from artists all over the world, WHYNOTUS will also be an event series that will host events worldwide.

Malóne's rise in the underground music scene has been underscored by praises such as being recognized as one of the "Future of Dance Artists" by 1001 tracklists in b2b years. Also earning a feature in "DJ Mag Spain" as one of the artists to watch in 2024. These acknowledgments stand as a testament to Malóne's extraordinary talent for igniting dancefloors with his captivating sound & live di sets. Following a busy summer spent orchestrating sunrises on the terrace of Space Miami, headlining at Pacha Barcelona, and making waves at Hi Ibiza alongside the Martinez Brothers, he's ready to ready take a massive leap forward in 2024 touring worldwide to go along with 10+ originals and remix releases set to come out throughout the year. Expect a breakout year for the Cuban artist from Miami.
