BIO

June 2024

“A fine balance between ruthless functionality & experimentalism,” Luke Alessi says of his current creative output.

Influenced from an array of different styles, Luke Alessi’s music sits in its own lane, not to be pigeonholed into any conventional genre. Instead, intentionally blurring the lines between house, disco, afro & electro via bending synth lines, earworm hooks and an underlying groove that keeps you locked in on the dance floor.

Luke Alessi’s productions have become a must-have tool for the biggest touring DJ’s, with his music reaching global audiences on the most renowned dance floors. It’s these releases with labels Life & Death, Smiile & Rose Avenue Records, that have seen Luke Alessi become a household name, collaborator and ally with the likes of Chloe Caillet, DJ Tennis, Carlita and RÜFÜS DU SOL.

As a DJ the demand met the hype in 2023, as Luke took on debut tours of Mexico and Europe, hitting clubs in Mexico City, Madrid, Ibiza, Istanbul, Tulum, Croatia and Copenhagen to name just a few.

2024 so far has already seen Luke pick up where he left off last year with debuts in a number of new cities around the globe across North America, Canada, Mexico, Asia and Europe including iconic venues such as Space Miami, The Brooklyn Mirage NYC, Sound Los Angeles, Factory Town Miami, Else Klub Berlin & many more. The second half of 2024 looks just as promising with Luke announcing that he will be joining the line ups of Portola Festival SF, Crssd Festival San Diego, Pacha Ibiza and more. There is no slowing down for this budding Australian artist.

With two massive releases under his belt already for 2024 including a collaborative single with Chloe Caillet ‘12 Inch Acid’ and a solo EP on Life & Death ‘Bay Beh’, both garnering support from the likes of Jamie xx, DJ Tennis, Dixon, Carlita, Floating Points and Pete tong. Luke also has a collaborative release with DJ Tennis just around the corner and more music to come on both Rose Avenue Records and Life & Death to set him up for an exciting return to Europe and the States in the summer months.
